This list is provided as a courtesy to our water customers, it does not include all certified backflow assembly testers. Spanaway Water Company makes no suggestion or recommendation regarding your selection of a contractor for testing or repair of backflow assemblies. Spanaway Water Company does not have control over fees and charges for backflow assembly testing or repair; we suggest that you obtain multiple bids for all proposed work. Prior to accepting any test report, Spanaway Water Co. requires the Backflow Assembly Tester's current Dept. of Health certification and annual calibration report for their test equipment.
